WORK OF THE LORD

The Divine and the Maternal Tributes Compared.

TEACHINGS FOR THE GENTLE

Dr. Talmadge Believes We Should Think of God as Our Mother as Well as Pather-Mercy, Patience, Love.

BROOKLYN, Dec. 11 .- Rev. Dr. Talnage today, in selecting a subject for sermon, chose an aspect of the di-e character which is seidom considered. To an unusually large audience coursed on God as "The Mother of All," the text being taken from Isaiah Izvi, 13, "As one whom his mother com-forteth, so will I comfort you."

The Bible is a warm letter of affection

The Bible is a warm letter of affection from a parent to a child, and yet there are many who see chiefly the severer passages. As there may be fifty or sixty nights of gentle dew in one summer that will not cause as much remark as one hailstorm of half an hour, so there are those who are more struck by those passages of the Bible that announce the indignation of God than by those that announce his affection. There may come noe his affection. There may come cuschold twenty or fifty letters of ion during the year, and they will not make as much excitement in that home as one sheriff's writ, and so there are people who are more attentive to those passages which announce the judg-ments of God than to those which announce his mercy and his favor.

God is a lion, John says in the book of Revelation. God is a breaker, Micah of Revelation. God is a breaker, Micah announces in his prophecy. God is a rock. God is a king. But hear also that God is love. A father and his child are walking out in the fields on a summer's day, and there comes up a thunderstorm, and there is a flash of lightning that startles the child, and the father says, "My dear, that is God's eye." There comes a peal of thunder, and the father says, "My dear, that is God's voice." But the clouds go off the sky, and the storm is gone, and light floods the heavens and floods the landscape, and the father forgets to say, "That is God's smile."

GOD A LOVING TEACHER.

The text of this morning bends with great gentleness and love over all who are prostrate in sin and trouble. It lights up with compassion. It melts with tenderness. It breathes upon us the hush of an eternal lullaby, for it annonness that God is our mother. "As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you."

I remark, in the first place, that God has a mother's simplicity of instruction. A father does not know how to teach a child the A B C. Men are not skillful in the primary department, but a mother has so much patience that she will tell a child for the hundredth time the difference between F and G and between and J. Sometimes it is by blocks; cometimes by the worsted work; sometimes by the slate; sometimes by the book. She thus teaches the child and has no awkwardness of condescension in so doing. So God, our Mother, stoops down to our infantile minds.

Though we are told a thing a thousand ses and we do not understand it, our heavenly Mother goes on, line upon line, precept upon precept, here a little and here a little. God has been teaching no of us thirty years and some of us cixty years one word of one syllable, and we do not know it yet-faith, faith. When we come to that word we stumble, we halt, we lose our place, we pronounce it wrong.

Still God's patience is not exhausted.

God, our Mother, puts us in the school of prosperity, and the letters are in sunshine, and we cannot spell them. God puts us in the school of adversity, and the letters are black, and we cannot spell them. If God were merely a king he ald punish us; if he were simply a would whip us; but God is a other, and so we are borne with and selped all the way through.

A mother teaches her child chiefly by tures. If she wants so set forth to her child the bideousness of a quarrel-some spirit, instead of giving a lecture pon that subject she turns over a leaf and shows the child two boys in a wrangle, and says, "Does not that look horde?" If she wants to teach ber child the awfulness of war she turns over the ure book and shows the war charger, less trunks of butchered men. the wild, bloodshot eye of battle rolling der lids of flame, and she says, "That is war!" The child understands it.

In a great many books the best parts are the pictures. The style may be insipid, the type poor, but a picture al-ways attracts a child's attention. Now God, our Mother, teaches us almost everything by pictures. Is the divine goodness to be set forth? How does God, our Mother, teach us? By an autumnal picture. The barns are full. The wheat stacks are rounded. The cattle are chewing the cud lazily in the sun. The orchards are dropping the ripe pippins into the lap of the farmer. The natural eld that has been busy all summer me now to be resting in great abun-

We look at the picture and say, "Thou crownest the year with thy goodness, and thy paths drop fatness." Our family around the breakfast table. been a very cold night, but the children are all bright because they slept under thick coverlets, and they are now in the warm blast of the open register, and their appetites make luxuries out of the plainest fare, and we look at the pic-

Recovered — sound health or every consumptive who can't delayed too long. Here's a positive cure with r. Pierce's Golden Medical liscovery. Just as it cures as worst of the many cross of scrotals, so it cross, and just as certain, the scrotalous affection the lungs that's called moumption—through the over, and feet-fraction, the it known to medical scien a in all its forms, Bronch Lung affections, Week Lors are Chugha, and avery disameted through the blood, ady so unfailing that it can not benefit or cure, in every case, your money back, a terms, it's an insulf to your into to have increasing size offered as at good."

ture and say, "Bless the Lord, U my God vishes to set forth the fact that in the judgment the good will be divided from the wicked. How is it done? By a picture; by a parable—a fishing scene. A group of hardy men, long bearded, geared for standing to the waist in water; sleeves rolled up. Long oar sun gilt; boat battered as though it had been a playmate of the storm. A full net thumping about with the fish, which have just discovered their captivity, the worthless mossbunkers and the useful flounders all in the same net. The fisherman puts his hand down amid The fisherman puts his hand down amid the squirming fins, takes out the moss-bunkers and throws them into the water and gathers the good fish into the pail, So says Christ, it shall be at the end of the world. The bad he will cast away, and the good he will keep. Another pic-

God, our Mother, wanted to set forth the duty of neighborly love, and it is done by a picture. A heap of wounds on the road to Jericho. A traveler has been fighting a robber. The robber stabbed him and knocked him down. Two ministers come along. They look at the poor fellow, but do not help him. A traveler comes along—a Samaritan. He says "Whoat" to the beast he is riding and dismounts. He examines the wounds: dismounts. He examines the wounds; no takes out some wine, and with it washes the wounds, and then he takes ome oil and puts that in to make the some oil and puts that in to make the wounds stop smarting, and then he tears off a piece of his own garment for a bandage. Then he helps the wounded man upon the beast and walks by the side, holding him on until they come to a tavern. He says to the landlord, "Here is money to pay the man's beard for two days; take care of him; if it costs anything more charge it to me, and I anything more charge it to ms, and I will pay it." Picture—"The Good Sa-maritan, or Who Is Your Neighbor?" GOD'S MOTHERLY LOVE.

Does God, our Mother, want to set forth what a foolish thing it is to go away from the right, and how glad di-vine mercy is to take back the wanderer? How is it done? By a picture. A good father. Large farm with fat sheep and oxen. Fine house with exquisite ward-robe. Discontented boy. Goes away. Sharpers fleece him. Feeds hogs. Gets homesick. Starts back. Sees an old man running. It is father! The hand, torn of the husks, gets a ring. The foot, torn of the busks, gets a ring. The foot, inflamed and bleeding, gets a sandal. The bare shoulder, showing through the tatters, gets a robe. The stomach, gnawing itself with hunger, gets a full platter smoking with meat. The father cannot eat for looking at the returned adventurer. Tears running down the face until they come to a smile—the night dew melting into the morning.

No work on the farm that day, for when a bad boy repents and comes back promising to do better, God knows that is enough for one day, "And they began to be merry." Picture—"Prodigal Son Returned from the Wilderness." So God, our Mother, teaches us everything by pictures. The sinner is a lost sheep. Jesus is the bridegroom. The useless man a barren fig tree. The Gospel is a great supper. Satan, a sower of tares. Truth, a mustard seed. That which we could not have understood in the abstract statement God, our Mother, presents to us in this Bible album of pictures, God engraved. Is not the divine maternity ever thus teaching us?

I remark again that God has a moth- brightness of eternal glory. shows a sort of favoritism. Here is a boy-strong, well, of high forehead and quick intellect. The father says, "I will take that boy into my firm yet," or, 'I will give him the very best possible education." There are instances where, for the culture of the one boy, all the others have been robbed. A sad favoritism, but that is not the mother's favorite. I will tell you her favorite.

There is a child who at two years of age had a fall. He has never got over it. The scarlet fever muffled his hear-He is not what he once was. That child has caused the mother more anxious nights than all the other children. If he coughs in the night she springs out of a sound sleep and goes to him. The last thing she does when going out of the house is to give a charge in regard to him. The first thing on coming in is to ask in regard to him.

Why, the children of the family all rnow that he is the favorite and say: Mother, you let him do just as he leases, and you give him a great many hings which you do not give us. He is your favorite." The mother smiles; she knows it is so. So he ought to be, for if there is any one in the world that needs sympathy more than another it is an invalid child, weary on the first mile of life's journey—carrying an aching head, a weak side, an irritated lung. So the mother ought to make him a favorite. God, our Mother, has favorites, "Whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth"-that is, one whom he especially loves he chas-

God loves us all, but is there one weak and sick and sore and wounded and suffering and faint? That is the one who lies nearest and more perpetually on the great loving heart of God. Why, it never coughs but our Mother-God-hears it. It never stirs a weary limb in the bed but our Mother-Godknows of it. There is no such a watcher as God. The best nurse may be over-borne by fatigue and fall asleep in the chair; but God, our Mother, after being up a year of nights with a suffering child, never slumbers nor sleeps.

IN THE PURNACE OF APPLICTION. "Oh," says one, "I cannot understand all that about affliction!" A refiner of silver once explained it to a Christian lady, "I put the silver in the fire, and I keep refining it and trying it till I can see my face in it, and I then take it out." Just so it is that God keeps his dear children in the furnace till the divine image may be seen in them; then they are taken out of the fire. "Well," says some one, "if that is the way that God treats his favorites, I do not want to be a favorite.

There is a barren field on an autumn day just wanting to be let alone. There is a hang at the bars and a rattle of whiffletrees and cievises. The field save. What is the farmer going to do with me now? The farmer puts the plow in the ground, shouts to the borses, the coller gues tearing through the sod, and the furrow reaches from fence to fence. Next day there is a bang at the bars and a rattle of whiffletrees again. The field says, "I wonder what the farmer is going to do now? The farmer hitches the horses to the harrow, and it unding and tearing across the again, and the need says, "What is the eavily scross the field, scattering seed as he walks. After awhile a cloud comes. The field says, "What, more trouble! It begins to rain. After awhile the wind changes to the northeast, and it be-gins to snow. Says the field: "Is it not enough that I have been torn and tram-pled upon and drowned? Must I now be snowed under?" After awhile spring comes out of the gates of the south, and warmth and gladness come with it. A green scarf bandages the gash of the sheat field, and the July morning drops a crown of gold on the head of the grain.

Next day there is a rattle at the bare

"Oh," says the field, "now I know the use of the plow, of the harrow, of the heavy feet, of the shower and of the snowstorm. It is well enough to be trodden and trampled and drowned and snowed under if in the end I can yield such a glorious barvest," "He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with re-joicing, bringing his sheaves with him." THROUGH GREAT TRIBULATION,

When I see God especially busy in troubling and trying a Christian, I know that out of that Christian's character there is to come some especial good. A quarryman goes down into the excava-tion, and with strong handed machinery bores into the rock. The rock says. "What do you do that for?" He puts powder in; he lights a fuse. There is a thundering crash. The rock says, "Why, the whole mountain is going to pieces. The crowbar is plunged; the rock is dragged out. After awhile it is taken into the artist's studio. It says, "Well, now I have got to a good, warm, com-fortable place at last."

But the sculptor takes the chisel and mallet, and he digs for the eyes, and he cuts for the mouth, and he bores for the ear, and he rubs it with sandpaper, un-til the rock says, "When will this tor-ture be ended?" A sheet is thrown over it. It stands in darkness. After awhile it is taken out. The covering is removed. It stands in the sunlight, in the presence of ten thousand applauding people, as they greet the statue of the poet, or the prince, or the conqueror.

"Ah," says the stone, "now I under stand it. I am a great deal better off now standing as a statue of a conqueror than I would have been down in the quarry." So God finds a man down in the quarry of ignorance and sin. How to get him up? He must be bored and blasted and chiseled and scoured and stand sometimes in the darkness.

But after awhile the mantle of afflic tion will fall off, and his soul will be greeted by the one hundred and fortyfour thousand and the thousands of thousands as more than conqueror. Oh, my friends, God, our Mother, is just as kind in our afflictions as in our prosperities. God never touches us but for our good. If a field clean and cultured is better off than a barren field, and if a stone that has become a statue is better off than the marble in the quarry, then that soul that God chastens may be his favorite.

Oh, the rocking of the soul is not the rocking of an earthquake, but the rock-ing of God's cradle. "As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you." I have been told that the pearl in an oyster is merely the result of a wound or a sickness inflicted upon it, and I do not know but that the brightest gems of heaven will be found to have been the wounds of earth kindled into the jeweled pacity for attending to little hurts. The father is shocked at the broken bone of the child or at the sickness that sets the cradle on fire with fever, but it takes the mother to sympathize with all the little ailments and little bruises of the child. If the child have a splinter in its hand it wants the mother to take it out and not the father. The father says, 'Oh, that is nothing," but the mother knows it is something, and that a little hurt sometimes is very great. So with God, our Mother; all our annoyances are important enough to look at and sympathize with.

Nothing with God is something. There are no ciphers in God's arithmetic. And if we were only good enough of sight we could see as much through a microscope as through a telescope. Those things that may be palpable and infinisimal to us may be pronounced and infinite to God. A mathematical point is defined as having no parts, no magnitude. It is so small you cannot imagine it, and yet a mathematical point may be a starting point for a great eternity. God's surveyors carry a very long chain. A scale must be very delicate that can weigh a grain, but God's scale is so delieate that he can weigh with it that which is so small that a grain is a million times heavier.

When John Kitto, a poor boy on a back street of Plymouth, cut his foot with a piece of glass, God bound it up so successfully that he became the great Christian geographer and a commentator known among all nations. So every wound of the soul, however insignificant, God is willing to bind up. As at the first cry of the child the mother rushes to kiss the wound, so God, our Mother, takes the smallest wound of the heart and presses it to the lips of divine sympathy. "As one whom his mother com-forteth, so will I comfort you."

DIVINE AND MOTHERLY PATIENCE. I remark further that God bas a mother's patience for the erring. If one does wrong first his associates in life cast him off; if he ghes on in the wrong way his business pariner casts him off; if he goes on his best friends cast him offhis father casts him off. But after all others have cast him off, where does be go? Who holds no grudge and forgives the last time as well as the first? sits by the murderer's counsel all through the long trial? Who tarries the longest at the windows of a culprit's cell? Who, when all others think ill of a man, keeps on thinking well of him? It is his mother. God bless her gray bairs if she be still alive, and bless her grave if she be gone! And bless the rocking chair in which she used to sit. and bless the cradle that she used to rock, and bless the Bible she used to

So God, our Mother, has patience for all the erring. After every body else has east a man off God, our Mother, comes to the rescue. God leaps to take charge of a had case. After all the other doctors have got through the heavenly Physician comes in. Human sympathy at such a time does not amount to much. Even the sympathy of the church, I am sorry to say, often does not amount to meh. I have seen the most harsh and bitter treatment on the part of those who sed faith in Christ toward those who were wavering and erring. They sgate and caricature, and they tried le tattle. There was one thing they hid not try, and that was forgiveness.

A soldier in England was brought by a sergeant to the colonel. "What," says the colonel, "bringing the man here sgaint. We have tried everything with him." 'Oh, no," says the sergeant; "there is one thing you have not tried. I would like you to try that." "What is that?" said the colonel. Said the man, "Forgiveness." The case had not gone so far but that it might on that turn, and so the colonel said: Well, young man, you have done so and so. What is your excuse? "I have no excuse, but I am very sorry," said the man.

"We have made up our minds to forgive you," said the colonel. The tears started. He had never been accosted in that way before. His life was reformed. and that was the starting point for a positively Christian life. O church of God, quit your sarcasm when a man falls! Quit your irony, quit your tittle tattle, and try forgiveness. God, your Mother, tries it all the time. A man's Mother, tries it all the time. A man's sin may be like a continent, but God's forgiveness is like the Atlantic and Pa-cific oceans. cific oceans, bounding it on both sides.

The Bible often talks about God's and. I wonder how it looks. You remember distinctly how your mother's hand looked, though thirty years ago it withered away. It was different from your father's hand. When you were to e chastised you had rather have mother punish you than father. It did not burt so much. And father's hand was different from mother's, partly because it had outdoor toil, and partly because God intended it to be different. The knuckles were more firmly set, and the palm was calloused.

But mother's hand was more delicate. There were blue veins running through the back of it. Though the fingers, some of them, were picked with a needle, the palm of it was soft. Oh, it was very soft! Was there ever a politice like that to take pain out or a wound? So God's hand is a mother's hand. What it touches it heals. If it smite you it does not hurt as if it were another hand. Oh, you poor wandering soul in sin, it is not a bailiff's hand that seizes you today! It is not a hard hand. It is not an unsympathetic hand. It is not a cold hand. It is not an enemy's hand. No. It is a gentle hand, a loving hand, a sympathetic hand, a soft hand, a mother's hand. "As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you."

I want to say finally that God has a mother's way of putting a child to sleep. You know there is no cradle song like a mother's. After the excitement of the evening it is almost impossible to get the child to sleep. If the rocking chair stop a moment the eyes are wide open; but the mother's patience and the mother's soothing manner keep on until after awhile the angel of slumber puts his wing over the pillow. Well, my dear brothers and sisters in Christ, the time will come when we will be wanting to be put to sleep. The day of our life will be done, and the shadows of the night of death will be gathering around us.
Then we want God to soothe us, to hush us to sleep.

Let the music at our going not be the dirge of the organ, or the knell of the church tower, or the drumming of a "dead march." but let it be the hush of a mother's lullaby. Oh, the cradle of the grave will be soft with the pillow of all the promises! When we are being rocked nto that last slumber I want this to be the cradle song, "As one whom a mother comforteth, so will I comfort you."

Asleep in Jesus! Far from thee Thy kindred and their graves may be; But thine is still a blessed sleep From which none ever wake to weep. A Scotchman was dying. His daughter Nellie sat by the bedside. It was Sunday evening, and the bell of the church was ringing, calling the people to church. The good old man, in his dying dream, thought that he was on the way to church, as he used to be when he went in the sleigh across the river, and as the evening bell struck up in his dying dream he thought it was the call

He said, "Hark, children, the bells are ringing; we shall be late; we must make the mare step out quick!" He shivered, and then said: "Pull the buffalo robe up closer, my lass! It is cold crossing the river, but we will soon be there, Nellie; we will soon be there." And he smiled and said, "Just there now." No wonder he emiled. The good old man had got to church. Not the old country church, but the temple in the skies. Just across the river. How comfortably did God hush that old man to sleep! As one whom his mother comforteth, so God comforted him.

Floating a Scheme Over a table in room No. 1 of the Astor Honse, where so many political schemes have been hatched, I had a long talk with Mr. Davies, the premier of British Columbia. He was here ostensibly in the interests of his government, but a certain railroad scheme also occupied a good deal of his attention and time. The scheme is to use Hudson bay as a waterway by building a railroad from each of its shores respectively to the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, and thus save many miles of construction. He drew imaginary lines on the table and mapped it all out so that any one could see with half an eye that it was not only a good but a great thing. And yet good, great and sure, as he told me everybody admitted it to be, he said that New York financiers had advised him to float the stock in the English market. He seemed to think that money was a rather scarce article in New York Is he right or wrong?-New York Herald.

CRATCHED TEN MONTHS A troublesome skin di caused me to scratch for to mouths, and has been ared by a few days' use of M. H. WOLFF, Upper Mariboro, Md-

PECIFIC a toy leg by using S.S.S. and have had no ayreptoms of re S.S.S. turn of the dis-

PAUL W. RIBEPATROTE, Johnson City, To Treatise on Blood and Skin Dis-

and all failed, but 8. S. S. did the work

A Child Enjoys The pleasant flavor, gentle action and southing effect of Syrap of Figs, when in need of a laxative, and if the father or mother be costive or believe, the most gratifying results follow its use; so that it is the best family remedy known and every family should have a

Mr. J. P. Biaize, an extensive real estate dealer in Des Moines, Iowa, narrowly escaped one of the severest attacks of pneumonia while in the northern part of the state during a recent bizzhrd, says the Saturday Review. Mr. Blaize had occasion to drive several miles during the storm and was so thoroughly chilled that he was unable to get warm, and inside of an hour after his return he was threatened with a severe case of pneumonia or lung fever. Mr. Blaize sent to the nearest drug store and got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, of which he had often heard, and took a number of large doses. He says the effect was had often hearl, and took a number of large doses. He says the effect was wonderful, and in a short time he was breathing quite easily. He kept on taking the medicine, and the next day was able to come to Des Moines. Mr. Blaze regards his cure as simply wonderful. For sale by F. J. Wurzburg, druggist, 58 Monroe street.

It Cures Colds. Coughs. Sere Threat, Croup, Influences, Wheeping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A certain ours for Consumption in first stages, and a sure relief in advanced stages. Use at once to will see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Sold by dealers everywhere. Large outles 50 cents and $1.00.

Nervous Prostration Sleeplessness, Rick and Nerrous Headnehe, Backache, Dizziness, Morbid Fears, Hot Flashes, Nervous Dyspepsia, Bulliness, Confusion, Hysteria, Fits, St. Vitus' Dance, Opinss Habit, Drunkenness, etc., are cured by Br. Miles' Restorative Nervine, It does not contain opisies. Mrs. Sophia C. Browniee, DeLand, Fla., suffered with Epilepsy for 50 years and testides to a complete cure. Jacob Petre, Ella, Oregon, had been suffering with Nervous Prostration for four years, could not sleep, hothing beliefd him until he used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervines; he is now well. Fine books Free at druggists. Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills, 50 dozes for 25 cents are the best remedy for Billousness, Tornid Liver, etc., etc. Dr. Miles' Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

TRIAL BOTTLE FREE.

Root Do you Beer? Drink SOLD AND ENJOYED EVERYWHERE

Makes an every-day convenience of old-time luxury. Pure and wholest Prepared with scrupulous care. Highest award at all Pure Food Expositions. Each package makes two large pies. Avoid imitations—and insist on having the NONE SUCH brand. MERRELL & SOUR P. Syracuse, N. Y.

A DYSPEPTIC'S ARGUMENT

a provi, and that growt marks the limit of arcument with bim. The best way to get him to try a medicine would be to advice against it—but notice how different his tone after using burdock Blood Bitters.

"I nave antered with dypopents for the last two years. Not long ago i commenced faking B. B. B. I am now on the second bottle, and I feet like a new man.

G. KNOX.

Il Sherwood Ara.

Elioghamton, N. Y.

Repeated Tests with tapping Stormer prove the fact that Burdock Blood Ritters will cure dyspepsia. The reason is plain, it tenes the stormech to natural action and keeps the slate ways of the system free from clog-ging importities.

sing impurities
"I have teen troubled with dyspepsis and heart disease for sine years, and found no relief intil I tried Burdons Brood Bitters. Now
I am well after taking two hottles,
Ebs. ETTIE FRAZIER,
Bowns, Mich."

LOCKSMITH

A. E. ALBERTIE, 58 Pearl-st

SPEEDILY, RADICALLY CURED OF PRIVATE AND OBSCURE DISEASES I

By a Modern Scientifie Discovery !

and final restoration through a happy scientific discovery; also Fatesphe Treatise on a said discovers. The contents of this work are by hed up by an array facts as convincitive as they may remantically appear. Read and be convinced. Price th contact tree as application. Address. WALMORTA MEDICAL CO. Detroit Mich PLEASE MAME THIS PAPER.

CHIGAN PRINTERS

WIII find it to their best interests to get our pr TYPE and PRINTERS' IMPLEMENTS of all kinds, as well as FLAT PAPERS, CARDBOARDS, RULED MEADINGS, etc; We are the largest Printers' Supply House in the State. Write for Catalogue and Discounts.

HARRIS' PAPER HOUSE.

33 North Jonia St.

Grand Rapids, Mich.

SPROUL & McGURRIN. Plumbing, Steam → Hot Water Heating HOT AIR FURNACES.

MANTELS, GRATES AND TILING, GAS AND ELECTRIC FIXTURES 7

Red Dismond Hose and other brands. Water and Sewer Connections Posteur Filters which kill all microbes and germs and make water about attely pure. Douglas' Instantaneous Water Heater, designed for Eath Wholeskie and Retail Dealers in Plumbers' Supplies.

(Telephone 147) 184 East Fulton St. Grand Rapids, Mich

VALLEY CITY IRON WORKS

ADOLPH LEITELT. Steam Engines and Boilers, and General Mill Machinery!

NICHOLS: LUMBER DRYER, LESLIES IMPROVED VENERA CUTTER.

Live or exhaust steam, Hot Blast Apparatus for brating factories, Dry Kilos, from Piping Position

Valves, etc., Improved Governors, Iron and Brass Cassings, Building Casts, etc.

Detroit Linseed Oil Works LIVERY

BOARDING STABLE Sland & North Division Street.

BROUGHAMS, COACHES, CABRIOLETS WACGES.

A very fine three-seat buckboard made by HACES FOR PUNERALS.

and NATIONAL LINSEED OIL CO.,

PARTECE GERM

PRINTER AND TE

Offices, 23 Congress st., near Woodward ave. DETROIT. LINSEED OIL

Both New and Old Process Oil Meal. Ground Flax Seed.

The Detroit Oil Mill has been in successful operation since 1600, and the highest recommendation of its products in the seasy damand for them.

The mills of the Entienal Lineard Oil On are the heat equipp d in the land, and thus company, having established at Betroit one of its most important branch offices, providing so great conveniences to somewhere of and dealers in Lineard Oil, it can emin with confidence its full place of the trade of this and continguous markets.

Kindly call or correspond with m.

SAM'L E. PITTMAN. Manager.

CENYON MILITARY